Biographical Information

Mary Josephine King was born 29 April 1924 in Birmingham, Alabama, to John Berry King (1894-1934) and Susan Edith Smith King (1899-1981). Mary Jo King graduated from Central High School in Charlotte, North Carolina, in 1942, and from Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing (Charlotte) in 1945. King taught nursing in Mississippi and in West Virginia, before accepting a position at Portsmouth (Virginia) General Hospital. After retiring from Portsmouth General, she taught part-time at Louise Obici School of Nursing. King was also a genealogist and belonged to several organizations. She did in-depth research on the King, Smith, and related families. Never married, Mary Josephine King died 22 October 2004 in Chesapeake, Virginia. She was buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Scope and Content

Papers, 1918-2003, of Mary Josephine King (1924-2004) of Chesapeake, Virginia, and Charlotte, North Carolina, consisting of genealogical materials collected in doing research on the King, Smith, and related families, and includes genealogical notes and charts, correspondence, and photographs. Papers also include King's personal papers mainly concerning her education and career as a nursing instructor. The series is divided into five series: I: Family Genealogies; II: Genealogical Correspondence; III: Miscellaneous Genealogical Material; IV: Personal Papers; V: Oversize.

Series III: Miscellaneous Genealogical Material.

Boxes 30-32 (box)

Extent

Extent: 3 boxes.

Scope and Content

Series III: Miscellaneous Genealogical Material consists of abstracts, applications, bibliographies, biographies, birth records, books, bulletins, clippings, correspondence, death records, deeds, forms, journals, judicial records, maps, marriage records, newspapers, notes, photographs, poems, and stationary used by Mary Josephine King in her genealogical research. Research materials cover Virginia, Alabama, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee, and includes information on churches in North and South Carolina, on Albemarle Parish in Virginia, and on Beech Grove Cemetery in Tennessee. Information, applications, and forms concern several genealogical societies, including the Blount County Genealogical and Historical Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.
