Historical Information

The Virginia Genealogical Society was founded in 1960 to promote, perpetuate, foster, and encourage interest in genealogical, historical, biographical, and heraldic research, and to publish information relating to genealogy, as well as participate in the search for manuscripts, documents, and records pertaining to genealogy which have not been accessible, thereby ensuring their preservation and publication. The Society also shares with others the skills, techniques, knowledge, procedures, and methods involved in genealogical research.

Scope and Content

Records, 1960-2016, of the Virginia Genealogical Society, including awards program nominations, Board of Governors meeting agendas and minutes, conference materials, constitutions and bylaws, correspondence, financial records, grant files, membership lists, publication and project files, copies of the Quarterly Bulletin and Newsletter, and scrapbooks.
