Compendious view of the state half pay list (Accession 44637), 1784.

Extent

Extent: 1 p.

Scope and Content

Contains a table showing the amount of half pay entitled to the officers of various units of the Virginia State Line including the 1st State Regiment, 2nd State Regiment, State Artillery Regiment, State Garrison Regiment, Illinois Regiment, State Cavalry Regiment, Crockett's Regiment, and the State Navy. The table provides the following information: what board of officers (e.g. February 1782), regiment or corps, strength when raised, non-[?] officers and privates reduced, number of officers when the board sat, number on the half pay list, and amount of half pay. (Accession 44637)

During its session begun in May 1779 the General Assembly granted half pay for life to officers who served to the end of the Revolutionary War, or who, if their unit was reorganized, were thereby rendered supernumerary officers subject to recall. In 1780 the General Assembly granted half pay for seven years to the widows and orphans of officers. Virginia defaulted on its half pay claims, however, and by an act of Congress passed 5 July 1832 the United States government assumed these obligations. An act of the General Assembly in May 1783 directed the auditors to issue warrants to officers of the state line and navy who are entitled to half pay. It also directed the auditors to make a return of such warrants to the General Assembly. A Board of Field Officers was directed by the governor to settle claims for half pay between 1782 and 1784.

List of officers of the Virginia Line who have been killed, wounded, resigned, or superceededList of officers of the Winchester arrangement (Accession 44633), 1782.

Extent

Extent: 8 p.

Scope and Content

Contains a list of officers of the Virginia Line on Continental establishment who were part of the Winchester arrangement of December 1782. Included are officers who wish to retire under acts of Congress of the 3rd and 21st October 1780 with emoluments of officers. Represented are the 1st through 8th Virginia Regiments of Foot. (Accession 44633)

Congress passed a resolution on October 3, 1780, that upon the reform of the army to take place on January 1, 1781, those officers who become supernumerary be entitled to half-pay for seven years. Another resolution was passed on October 21, 1780, which stated that the commander-in-chief, and commanding officer in the Southern department, direct the officers of each state to meet and agree upon the officers for the regiments to be raised, from those inclined to continue in the service, and where it cannot be done by agreement, to be determined by seniority, and make return of those who are to remain. The Board of Officers was appointed by Brigadier General Peter Muhlenburg for the purpose of adjusting and finally settling an arrangement of the Virginia Line. The Board of Officers decided matters of dispute with respect to the rank of officers, received the claims of officers, examined evidence, and presented the facts and their opinion to the commander-in-chief. Colonel James Wood served as president of the board.

Contains a list of warrants issued to various offices in the Virginia State Line for half pay. The list provides the date the warrant was issued, the number of warrants issued, name and rank of officer, expiration of half pay, and total amount of warrants received. Included are warrants issued between 15 November 1783 and 19 February 1784. (Accession 44786)

During its session begun in May 1779 the General Assembly granted half pay for life to officers who served to the end of the Revolutionary War, or who, if their unit was reorganized, were thereby rendered supernumerary officers subject to recall. In 1780 the General Assembly granted half pay for seven years to the widows and orphans of officers. Virginia defaulted on its half pay claims, however, and by an act of Congress passed 5 July 1832 the United States government assumed these obligations. An act of the General Assembly in May 1783 directed the auditors to issue warrants to officers of the state line and navy who are entitled to half pay. It also directed the auditors to make a return of such warrants to the General Assembly. A Board of Field Officers was directed by the governor to settle claims for half pay between 1782 and 1784.

Congress passed a resolution on October 3, 1780, that upon the reform of the army to take place on January 1, 1781, those officers who become supernumerary be entitled to half-pay for seven years. Another resolution was passed on October 21, 1780, which stated that the commander-in-chief, and commanding officer in the Southern department, direct the officers of each state to meet and agree upon the officers for the regiments to be raised, from those inclined to continue in the service, and where it cannot be done by agreement, to be determined by seniority, and make return of those who are to remain. The Board of Officers was appointed by Brigadier General Peter Muhlenburg for the purpose of adjusting and finally settling an arrangement of the Virginia Line. The Board of Officers decided matters of dispute with respect to the rank of officers, received the claims of officers, examined evidence, and presented the facts and their opinion to the commander-in-chief. Colonel James Wood served as president of the board.

Summary of state officers during the Revolutionary War (Accession 44638), ca. 1783.

Extent

Extent: 11 p.

Scope and Content

Contains a summary of legislation respecting officers of the Virginia State Line and the formation of the Virginia state regiments, State Garrison Regiment, Virginia State Artillery, and Illinois Regiment between 1776 and 1783. (Accession 44638)

The Virginia General Assembly created three regiments of infantry during the Revolutionary War to serve within the state. These units were separate from the state's quota in the Continental Line. Virginia State Line units were often placed in the Continental Line to replenish killed or captured troops. Although they were originally to serve exclusively within the limits of Virginia, most of the state units were sent outside the state. In December 1779, Maj. John Nelson was authorized to raise a cavalry regiment within Virginia. George Rogers Clark's Illinois Regiment became the largest Virginia State Line regiment. The Virginia State Line was rearranged on four occasions beginning with the merger of the 1st and 3rd State regiments in January 1778. In February 1782, the Virginia State Line units, with the exception of Clark's Illinois Regiment and Joseph Crockett's Western Battalion, merged with Col. Charles Dabney's Virginia State Legion. Dabney's Legion disbanded on 24 April 1783.

Winchester account book (Accession 37038), 1782

Extent

Extent: 1 v. (45 p.)

Scope and Content

This volume contains proceedings of a Board of Officers appointed by Gen. Muhlenberg to adjust, and finally settle and arrange the Virginia Line, at Winchester Dec. 17, 1782. Also includes a list of soldiers at Winchester Barracks. (Accession 37038)

Congress passed a resolution on October 3, 1780, that upon the reform of the army to take place on January 1, 1781, those officers who become supernumerary be entitled to half-pay for seven years. Another resolution was passed on October 21, 1780, which stated that the commander-in-chief, and commanding officer in the Southern department, direct the officers of each state to meet and agree upon the officers for the regiments to be raised, from those inclined to continue in the service, and where it cannot be done by agreement, to be determined by seniority, and make return of those who are to remain. The Board of Officers was appointed by Brigadier General Peter Muhlenburg for the purpose of adjusting and finally settling an arrangement of the Virginia Line. The Board of Officers decided matters of dispute with respect to the rank of officers, received the claims of officers, examined evidence, and presented the facts and their opinion to the commander-in-chief. Colonel James Wood served as president of the board. Photostat volume also available (Accession 24285).
