Scope and Content

Record Group 30 houses miscellaneous reports written about Arlington County neighborhoods and specific buildings that are historical in nature. These reports are, for the most part, unpublished works done by students of Historic Preservation from local colleges and universities, county generated studies, or Historic American Buildings Surveys (HABS). This active collection currently is 2.5 linear feet.

The subjects covered include neighborhoods, communities and buildings in Arlington. Most are well documented, and were written from the 1980s to the present. These reports contain histories of the neighborhood or property and analysis of its architectural importance. Many of these reports also contain photographs; there are 71 total images in the collection. Files with an asterisk contain photographs.
