Biographical / Historical Information

Richmond Professional Institute was founded as the Richmond School of Social Economy under the directorship of Dr. Henry H. Hibbs, Jr. in 1917 offering education in social work and public health nursing. In 1918 the name changed to the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health. When the school became an extension of William and Mary in 1925, it changed to the Richmond Division of the College of William and Mary; and later in 1939, the Richmond Professional Institute of the College of William and Mary. In 1962 it became independent from William and Mary. On July 1, 1968, Richmond Professional Institute and the Medical College of Virginia officially merged becoming Virginia Commonwealth University.

Scope and Contents

The Richmond Professional Institute (RPI) resource record comprises 29 accessions relating to the history of RPI/VCU. These accessions are separated into five series: Photographs, Alumni Records, Publications, RPI Affiliated Associations, and Memorabilia. Accessions are directly related to the history of RPI/VCU and center on events, clubs, publications, correspondence, and the historical direction of RPI. They are separated based on the primary content or donor for each accession, though overlap between series may be present.

Series 1: Photographs, contains images relating to student clubs, RPI advertisements, buildings, construction, commencement, winter holidays, and VCU sponsored events. Most photographs are taken by individuals working within the university with a few being hired photographers to document certain events or photograph specific departments.

Series 2: Alumni Records, contains records relating to Alumni News Bulletin, minutes, correspondence, by-laws, homecoming, agendas, photographs, alumni sponsored campus events, graduation, and RPI uniforms. These accessions were donated by the RPI/VCU Alumni Association and focus mostly on their post-graduation alumni interactions with RPI.

Series 3: Publications, contains records relating to Proscript, Business School of Management, professional development opportunities (primarily from the 1960s), The Evening College, School of Art, commission plans for the university, and Gaslight: Student Guidebook. These materials primarily relate to publications from various schools or clubs with a focus on student work, involvement, or publications for staff and faculty at RPI.

Series 4: RPI Affiliated Associations, contains records relating to Citizens' Foundation, Student Government Association (SGA), and the Southern Association of Colleges (SAC). These accessions are separated by association and primarily contain yearly reports, event planning, minutes, agendas, and historical information regarding the university.

Series 5: Memorabilia, contains records with physical memorabilia related to the university. This includes print blocks, seals, yearbooks, President's book, and plaques.

Separated Materials

Certain photographs were separated and added to RG 060 and should be noted on the accompanying accession record.

Related Materials

In addition to the linked accessions, there are also digital and physical copies of the RPI/VCU yearbooks and RPI student newspapers available.
