Biographical / Historical

Across 25 NCAA Division I sports, the Virginia Cavaliers have captured 81 Atlantic Coast Conference championships since 2002, more than any other ACC school. Since the fall of 2012, UVA has won nine NCAA championships, including national championships in men's basketball and men's lacrosse in 2019. The Cavaliers placed first in the 2019 Men's Capital One Cup, honoring the nation's top Division I athletic programs. During the 2018-19 academic year, a school-record 427 UVA student-athletes were named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll. Virginia posted a graduation rate of 92 percent in the NCAA's annual Graduation Success Rate for incoming student-athletes from 2008 to 2011. It is the highest mark for Virginia since the report was launched in 1998.

Scope and Contents

The collection includes printed sports schedules for baseball, basketball, field hockey, football, lacrosse, soccer, and volleyball; UVa sports trading cards; ten slides and five photographs, including an undated photo of Woody Harrelson with Cav Man; certificates from the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators and the Collegiate Licensing Company; and, an award from the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame "for attaining the highest overall athletic winning percentage, University Division, 2009-2010."

The collection also contains University sports logos printed on felt, posters (some autographed) of UVa sports teams; a basketball autographed by the 1996/1997[?] women's basketball team; and, posters of various sports teams, some autographed by the players.
