Content Description

RG 23/100, Student Organizations/ Miscellaneous, includes a new addition (RG-23/100/1.114) which is a pamphlet titled "Bigot on the Board?: What Bert Ellis' appointment means for you."

The cover image is of the 1895 Rotunda Fire with onlookers present. The contents present negative views on the appointment of Bert Ellis to the University of Virginia Board of Visitors by Governor Youngkin. Content warning: The material includes language that may be offensive to some.

It reviews Bert Ellis's time as a University of Virginia student and his recent stances on events at the University of Virginia. Each spread points to a specific action taken by Ellis with supporting quotes on the following events: Ellis inviting William Shockley, a noted Eugenecist, to speak at the University in 1974 for a debate entitled "The Correlation Between Race and Intelligence," Ellis's rejection of co-sponsorship of an event with the Gay Student Union in 1975, and Ellis's intention to remove a 'Fuck UVA' sign hung on a Lawn Room door in 2020. At the bottom of each page is a "Fun Fact" that discusses the role of the University's Board of Visitors, suggesting the power Ellis would have if confirmed. On the back cover is the text "Block Bert's Confirmation!" followed by a QR code leading to a document with the contact information of Virginia State Senators, who vote on whether to confirm or reject Ellis in January 2023.

The other items in this collection are fliers and posters for UVA's music, religious and student events.
