Biographical / Historical

These drawings were donated by Dr. John Hayden, a professor of biology at the University of Richmond. He received his Ph.D. at the University of Maryland and focuses on the morphology, anatomy, and systematics of plants. His research concerns plants of the family Euphorbiaceae, Virginia flora, and Yucatan ethnobotany and floristics.

Scope and Contents

This collection is made up of 14 boxes containing over 2000 hand-drawn ink botanical illustrations, completed by various artists in the 1930s. Most drawings are undated, but dates are noted when provided. There is very little information on the drawings (beyond plant structure, etc.), so locations and artist names are noted when available. Unlabeled drawings that are obvious parts of other labeled collages were labeled on the back with that plant name. Anything unsure or unlabeled was left as-is and described as unidentified. Box 14 contains miscellaneous drawings separated from the collection due to water damage or mold.

Keywords

Plants in art

Arrangement

This collection is organized alphabetically by family name. Arrangement within folder is alphabetical by how drawings are labeled; sometimes this is common name and sometimes it is scientific name. Changes in family names and other classification/name changes are noted throughout. Each folder is labeled with its scientific family name and contains the drawings belonging to that family, in alphabetical order.
