Immediate Source of Acquisition

Gift of Charles H. Taylor, Boston, MA, May 1, 1931 (Mss.Acc. 1931.23);

Biographical / Historical

Drawn by Jodocus Hondius the younger, who died in 1629, before its publication. Blaeu bought the plate from Hondius' widow in 1629 and replaced the latter's name with his own. Blaeu likely included the map in his own later atlases without changing the year (1629).

Scope and Contents

"The Promised Land," from Atlas Major. A map of the Holy Land, viewed from atop Mt. Pisgah. The Exodus and the Wandering of the Children of Israel are depicted in the Sinai. Moses and Aaron flank the decorative cartouche, Jonah and the whale are shown in the sea, and the Pharaoh's forces are seen drowning in the Red Sea. The Mare Mortuum or Dead Sea is shown in a distorted shape with Sodom and Gommora burning within it.

Decorative cartouches, compass roses, ship, sea monsters.

North oriented toward upper right of sheet.

Guilielmi Blaeu, Amsterdam - maker

Joducus Hondius - engraver

Unit Date 1664

Mixed materials 31 (Folder)

Scope and Contents

English copy of a map made for Dutch authorities which may have been handed over to the English by the last Dutch governor of New York, Pieter Stuyvesant following the surrender of the town in September 1664 and probably accompanied the town's request to the Duke of York (King James II) to agree to be its patron. It is the last map to use the name "New Amsterdam." From Manual of the Corporation of the City of New York, by David T. Valentine, 1858 "British Museum November 8/58 - I hereby certify that I have closely examined this copy of a map of the Town of Mannados or New Amsterdam now in the Library of the British Museum and find that it agrees in every respect with the original. - Richard Sims Manuscript Department," handwritten note on map.

Engraved for the [Thomas] Jefferson's Notes on Virginia, London 1787. Republished by J. W. Randolph, Richmond, Va

The country on the eastern side of the Alleganey Mountains is taken from Fry and Jefferson's Map of Virginia and Scull's Map of Pennsylvania, which were constructed chiefly on actual survey, that on the western side of the Alleganey, is taken from Hutchins, who went over the principal water courses, with a compass and log-line, correcting his works by observations of latitude: additions have been made, where they could be made on sure ground.

From surveys of B. L. Blackford, Asst. Engr. Made under direction of Capt. A. H. Campbell, Provl. Engrs. in charge Topog. Dept. D.N.V. "It is impossible to designate definitively the exact character of the roads in this county especially in the low parts. Some public roads seem to be altogether disused, and almost effaced, and many farm & private roads have become thoroughfares, this is especially the case along the river. The county is entriely stripped of enclosures, and cut up with innumerable camp paths. The Roads are generally well beaten, but even even much washed, and many small crossings even destroyed by the July rain." (signed) B. Lewis Blackfod, Asst Engr. handwritten note on map.

Originally issued by Jodocus Hondius from 1618-1629, the map closely follows Smith's style of 1612. Upon Hondius's death in 1629, Blaeu purchased the plates and the imprint was thereafter changed to reflect the new ownership. Blaeu used the map first in his Atlantic Appendix (1630) and afterwards in virtually every edition of his atlas.
