Biographical Information:

Joseph Bernardin grew up in Kansas City, Missouri. He attended Yale University, Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Massachusetts, Oxford University in England and the Theological School in Harvard University. He was an Episcopal Priest and also a member of the Army Chaplain Corps. He was the Assistant Minister and Minister-in-Charge at different parishes through the years, including Priest-in-Charge at All Saints Church in Nevada, Missouri and Trinity Church in Lamar, Missouri, Master at St. Mark's School in Southborough, Massachusetts, Assistant at All Angels' Church in New York City, St. John's Church and St. Luke's Mission in Knoxville, Tennessee, Minister-in-Charge at St. Andrew's Church in Maryville, Tennessee and Trinity Church, Gatlinburg, Tennessee and St. Francis of Assisi Church in Lake Placid, Florida. His first position was as Master at the Choir School and Assistant to the Dean of the Cathedral at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City. He resigned from this position amid controversy between Bishop William T. Manning who wanted to fire Bernardin for "insubordination" and "disobedience" and the Dean of the School, the Very Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins. In 1939 he was in charge of the American Church of the Ascension in Munich, Germany until October, and returned to this Church from 1959-1966.

He retired to Williamsburg, Virginia in 1971 and moved to a retirement community in Virginia Beach in 1983.

He never married. Further information about this individual or organization may be available in the Special Collections Research Center Wiki: http://scdbwiki.swem.wm.edu/wiki/index.php/Joseph_Buchanan_Bernardin.

Scope and Contents

Fifty-eight diaries of Joseph Buchanan Bernardin, Episcopal clergyman, dated 1913-1987, and thirteen scrapbooks of clippings, invitations, programs, and other memorabilia.

Most of his diary entries do not go into detail, but record the bare bones of his daily activities. He often mentions people with whom he socializes and good friends. But he rarely tells what he is reading, or mentions particulars about his parishioners or friends. He mentions places he visits, from restaurants to plays to tourist sites, but gives no detail.

His scrapbooks contain personal items, such as passports and birthday cards, but mostly contain programs from events such as plays and musicals; menus from restaurants and tourist pamphlets. Includes his manuscripts, such as his writings and college reports.

Collection is located off site. Please contact Special Collections.

Includes addition 1990.011.

Scope and Contents

Most of Joseph Bernardin's diary entries do not go into great detail, but record the bare bones of his daily activities. He often mentions people with whom he socializes and good friends. But he rarely tells what he is reading, or mentions particulars about his parishioners or friends. He mentions places he visits, from restaurants to plays to tourist sites, but gives no detail. There is not a diary for 1914. In the back of each diary, he lists the initials of people he mentions in that year. Some years have been more fully described in the inventory than other years.

Still doing his studies between taking trips and visiting his parents until he begins his job as Master at the Choir School. September 14, begins duties as Master at the Choir School, a part of Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Teaches Algebra III, arithmetic I and French. November 17, "I put the boys to bed this evening and then went over to the Mannings to play bridge." December 6, "Bishop Partridge dropped in to see me this morning." December 22 "I had an interview with Bishop Manning this morning. I had Luncheon with Dean and Mrs. Robbins this noon." December 23, New York, New York, "I dropped in to see Dean Robbins this morning. ...My resignation as a Master in the Cathedral Choir School took affect to-day." (Copies of newspaper articles concerning the resignations are in the first folder. It appears that Bishop William T. Manning wanted to fire The Rev. Joseph B. Bernardin for "insubordination" and "disobedience" but the Dean of the School, the Very Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins didn't think he had the right to dismiss a clergyman of the cathedral staff. Rev. Robbins resigned in support of his opinion. Rev. Bernardin was asked to resign both positions as Master in the Cathedral Choir School and as Assistant to the Dean of the Cathedral.)

13 Diaries. Williamsburg, Virginia. Lives in Williamsburg, Virginia where he assists with services at Bruton Parish. His diary mentions his activities, such as shopping, having dinner, parties, church functions and entertainment. He often states where he shopped, had dinner and the names of the plays or other functions. He mentions names of local people, usually only using initials, and includes a list in the back of the book where he writes the person's name beside the initials. Some names mentioned are Dr. Fuqua, a dentist, Raymond Halstead, George Van Driem and Rev. Cotesworth Lewis, rector of Bruton Parish Church. In 1974 he begins getting injections, but doesn't mention the reason. Also, he participates in the 300 Anniversary Service of Bruton Parish Church and the Reception in the Graveyard on April 18, and on September 18, he signs a new Will at Geddy and Harris. In 1979, he begins having medical and blood examinations at home by a nurse and George van Driem, but still has an active social life. On May 17, 1980, he officiated at the marriage of D. Bernardin, Jr. in Dallas, Texas. On September 14, 1981, he signs papers for a condominium at 301 North Boundary Street in Williamsburg, Virginia. On November 24, 1982, he has an examination at the neuro-surgery clinic at Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, Virginia. On January 9, 1983, his good friend, Raymond Halstead, had a 70th birthday champagne brunch at the Hotel Fort Magruder.

Lives in Williamsburg, Virginia and Virginia Beach, Virginia. 5 diaries. On February 1, 1983, he visits Westminster-Canterbury in Virginia Beach, Virginia where he inspects his rooms and has interviews. On March 8, he sells items on consignment. Moves into Westminster-Canterbury on April 5. July 31, 1984, he checks in as a patient at the Neurological Center at John Hopkins Hospital and leaves on August 14. He visits again later in the year. He and Raymond Halstead maintain their friendship even after he moves to Virginia Beach. In 1986 he makes regular visits for physical therapy on his shoulder, sometimes uses a wheelchair and has falls. He also doesn't write every day, as he has up until 1986. On February 19, 1987 he falls in his room, is taken to the hospital and told that he has congestive heart failure. Also, beginning February 19, someone else is making entries into his diary, but using the first person. On February 26, he is moved to the Health Unit then to the Assisted Living Center at Westminster Canterbury. After the fall, he is visited at the hospital and at Westminster Canterbury, by Episcopal ministers David Tetrault, Cotesworth Lewis, Bishop Rose, Bishop Vasche and other friends. Raymond Halstead helped him move his possessions from his apartment. On April 2, 1987 he has operation for bleeding duodenal ulcer. He remains in hospital with irregular heartbeat and more bleeding, plus he is not always lucid. He returns to Health Care Unit on April 23, and even though he is lucid and not on life support equipment, he is not doing well. His mind is completely gone by May 6 and Raymond Halstead prepares to clean out his apartment and has contacted Swem Library. The last entry is December 22, 1987 and Bernardine remains in same condition.

U.T.S. on red front cover (Union Theological School). Includes newspaper articles, 1st Lt. Chaplain orders in the Reserve Corp of the U.S. Army (June 16, 1927), theatre programs, invitations, photographs, brochures, college receipts, newsletters from Camp Wyanoke in New Hampshire, church bulletins, ministry and teaching licenses and correspondence. Near the end of the scrapbook, there are newspaper articles about his resignation from the Cathedral of St. John Divine in New York and the resignation of Dean Howard Chandler Robbins. Includes correspondence between Bernardin and Dean Robbins, resignation letter of Bernardin from position from Choir School, resignation from position as staff assistant to Dean Robbins on December 19, 1928 and resignation letter of Dean Robbins. Newspaper articles include information about the resignations, Bernardin's role in the conflict, biographical material on Bernardin, Dean Robbins and Bishop Manning, and the conflict between the "anglo-catholic" and liberal Episcopalians. One newspaper article quotes Rev. Joseph B. Bernardin as saying, "...limited himself to the explanation that he had disagreed about the discipline with the Rev. William Dudley F. Hughes, headmaster of the preparatory boarding school..." and he resigned the second time as chief assistant to Dean Robbins "in order to save Dean Robbins any embarrassment."
