Conditions Governing Access

Collection is open to all researchers. Manuscript collections and archival records may contain materials with sensitive or confidential information that is protected under federal or state right to privacy laws and regulations, such as the Virginia Public Records Act (Code of Virginia. § 42.1-76-91); and the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (Code of Virginia § 2.2-3705.5). Confidential material may include, but is not limited to, educational, medical, and personnel records. If sensitive material is found in this collection, please contact a staff member immediately. The disclosure of personally identifiable information pertaining to a living individual may have legal consequences for which the College of William and Mary assumes no responsibility.

Conditions Governing Use

Before reproducing or quoting from any materials, in whole or in part, permission must be obtained from the Special Collections Research Center, and the holder of the copyright, if not Swem Library.

Preferred Citation:

Letter regarding freed enslaved persons in Barbados, Special Collections Research Center, Swem Library, William and Mary.

Content Description

Four page letter from a person, possibly from Connecticut who reports his safe return from Barbados. The author expresses his disdain for the black population of the island, and comments on the prospect of a possible uprising. Mentions that he is in possession of a "patent Volcanic Repeating Pistol" to protect himself in such an event.
