Acquisition Information:

Acc. 2010.778 was received by Special Collections in December 2010.

Preferred Citation:

Keystone View Company Collection, Special Collections Research Center, Swem Library, College of William and Mary.

Administrative History:

The Keystone View Company was a major distributor of stereographic images and was located in Meadville, Pennsylvania.

Scope and Contents

This collection contains a full set of stereoviews from the Keystone View Company's "Tour of the World" series. The set includes stereoview images from six continents, excluding Antarctica. The scenes capture diverse people, monuments, and landscapes. Each stereoview has a description of the scene located on the back. The descriptions are often ethno-centric towards non-western cultures. Points of interest include European-controlled Africa, the Middle East before the creation of Israel, and Germany in between the World Wars. The collection also includes a company guidebook from 1936. Our online list is off by one number. For instance, on page 39 of the Title List, 803, "Climbing Through a Tropical Jungle, Central Africa," in our list it is under volume 5 as number 804.
